If no credit will be issued, Merchant must electronically print or write “Final sale” or “No return” on the sales receipt by the customer signature line. Any store credit policy must be electronically printed, hand written or stamped by the customer signature line.

3. CARD SALES AUTHORIZATIONS

- An authorization is required on all Card Sales. Merchant understands and acknowledges that the dollar amount established for each transaction over which authorization from the bank card issuer must be obtained (its floor limit) is ZERO. Merchant shall request authorization for the exact amount of the transaction on the date the transaction takes place by swiping the Card through the terminal or keying the account number, expiration date, amount and AVS information into the terminal. Merchant shall electronically print or write legibly on the sales receipt the authorization approval code evidencing any authorization so obtained. If Merchant receives a negative verification response, Merchant must not complete the transaction, and if instructed by Processor to pick up the Card, Merchant should do so by reasonable and peaceful means, notify Processor when the Card has been recovered, and ask for further instructions.
- When requesting an authorization in any of the following circumstances: (i) the transaction is a mail order, telephone order or preauthorized order; (ii) the Cardholder is present and does not have the Card; (iii) the name or signature on the signature panel of a Card differs from or is dissimilar to the name on the sales receipt; (iv) an expired Card is present; (v) any suspicious or unusual circumstances; Merchant must advise the authorization center of the specific circumstance accompanying the authorization request.
- If the electronic credit card terminal is not functioning, Merchant may obtain an authorization by telephone, calling the voice authorization center phone number. Merchant must provide the voice authorization center the card account number, expiration date and the amount of the sale. In order to process any approved voice authorization, when the electronic credit card terminal is functioning, the transaction must be key entered utilizing the “force”, “offline” or “post authorization” function.

4. EQUIPMENT

- All credit card transactions must be processed electronically utilizing an electronic terminal or personal computer software designed for credit card processing and certified by Processor. Merchant may purchase, rent or lease terminals, ECRs, POS systems and/or printers and peripherals, or license software from an approved third party including independent sales agents representing Processor. Merchant understands if it chooses to obtain equipment or software from a third party including independent sales agents representing Processor, that Processor makes no warranties to the fitness of this equipment or software for any purpose. Processor is not responsible nor liable for the servicing, repair, performance, maintenance or replacement of these products. Payment for any equipment or software purchased from a third party including independent sales agents representing Processor is the responsibility of the merchant.
- Merchant is responsible for all telephone charges including installation of all required lines, equipment and telephone connections in conjunction with the use of electronic equipment or software.
- Merchant agrees to keep all electronic equipment or software in good working order.
- Merchant shall not move, modify, or make any attachments to electronic terminals or software without the written consent of Processor.
- Merchant agrees to keep a manual imprinter on site at all times to obtain imprints of Cards if systems or equipment is not functioning properly.

5. SETTLEMENT

- Merchant will settle all transactions no later than the close of business on the first business day following completion of any Card Sale transaction via an electronic transmission prepared at Merchant’s expense. Any Card Sale transaction which has been rejected or corrected will be reconciled and re-entered by Merchant into the electronic authorization terminal before electroni—cally batching. A transaction will not be deemed to be complete until Merchant has performed all of its obligations to the purchaser in connection with such transaction. The delivery by Merchant of an electronic transmission, in accordance with this Agreement will constitute the assignment to Processor without recourse, except as otherwise specifically provided in this Agreement, of all of Merchant’s rights, title and interest therein. Merchant hereby authorizes Processor to execute a specific assignment thereof without recourse, except as otherwise specifically provided for in this Agreement, on behalf of Merchant to Processor.
- Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, Processor will purchase the Card Sales upon receipt of the electronic transmission containing the Card Sales information, for the aggregate face amount thereof and will credit such amount, less any fees which may be due, to a deposit account designated by Merchant. Processor may refuse to purchase any Card Sales or claim the amount of which, in whole or in part, it could charge back to Merchant pursuant to Section 8 below, if it had purchased the Card Sales or claim. Payment to Merchant will be provisional for each electronic transmission received by Processor until Merchant has fulfilled all of its obligations relating to said Card Sale.
- Merchant will pay a merchant discount rate as identified on the Merchant Application depending on the processing option. This fee will be calculated as a percentage of all MASTERCARD Card Sales, VISA Card Sales and DISCOVER Card Sales and a transaction fee based upon the number of Card Sales for which an authorization was attempted. If at any time during the term of this Agreement the MASTERCARD, VISA or DISCOVER Card interchange fees change, or if the MASTERCARD, VISA and DISCOVER Card transactions submitted by electronic transmission fail to qualify for a reduced electronic issuers reimbursement fee, then Merchant may incur an additional increase in MASTERCARD, VISA and/or DISCOVER Card interchange fees and operating expenses based on any increase in the interchange rates or fees related to processing downgraded items. Merchant acknowledges MASTERCARD, VISA and DISCOVER Card each provide for multiple interchange rates based primarily on the data processing technique used by Merchant for the authorization of Card Sales and the time within which Card Sales are interchanged to Card Issuing institutions. If the Card Sales submitted by Merchant fail to qualify for the lowest interchange fee calculation due to the failure of Merchant to perform one or more of its obligations under this contract, Merchant will be charged for the incremental increase in interchange fees and operating expenses. Additionally, any fees or costs charged to Processor by third parties in connection with the processing of Card Sales provided to Merchant by Processor may be charged to Merchant.
- Fees and other charges due Processor hereunder may be deducted from amounts otherwise due Merchant, may be debited against Merchant’s designated demand deposit account, any other demand deposit account for which Merchant is a designator signor, or other account, such as Guarantor’s personal account, at Processor’s sole discretion. The discount and other fees (such as transaction fees, statement fees, monthly minimums, annual fees, etc.) may be collected by Processor on a daily, monthly, or other basis, as determined by Processor. All reserve amounts may be deducted from amounts otherwise due Merchant, debited against Merchant’s designated account, or Guarantor’s personal account, or paid directly by Merchant through the ACH systems or otherwise at Processor’s sole discretion. Merchant authorizes Processor to initiate debit entries to Merchant’s account, or Guarantor’s personal account, and to any other ac—count maintained by Merchant at any financial institution. This authorization will remain in effect after termination of this Agreement, and for as long as Merchant owes any amount to Processor. Merchant will indemnify and hold any financial institution and Processor harmless for any action taken against Merchant’s account in accordance with instructions from Processor regarding Merchant’s account. This section will survive termination of this Agreement.
- Upon receipt of an electronic transmission indicating a credit receipt which conforms to the requirements of this Agreement, Processor will charge against Merchant’s depository account the total shown thereon.
- All sales receipts, credit receipts and deposit slips are subject to review, verification and acceptance by Processor. In the event of a computational or similar error of an accounting or record keeping nature with respect to such receipts, Processor may credit to or charge against (as the case may be) Merchant’s account the proper corrective amount per Processor’s normal operating procedures.
- If Processor, as a result of Merchant’s failure to comply with settlement procedures provided herein, is unable to deliver payments otherwise due Merchant, such payments shall be earned compensation of Processor.

6. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

 - subject to the other provisions of this Agreement, the Card Sales and the claims are enforceable against the Cardholder according to their terms and the Cardholder has no defense to the payment thereof.
 - Merchant has full authority to enter into this Agreement and Merchant’s entry into this Agreement will not violate any other agreement to which Merchant is a party;
 - Merchant confirms the representations set forth in the application completed by Merchant and delivered to Processor and such application is incorporated herein by reference. With respect to Identity Responsibility Sales, the Merchant also makes representations and warranties provided in Section 2, above.

7. FRAUDULENT SALES AND FACTORING

Merchant shall not present to Processor any sales slip or transaction record (i) which Merchant knows or upon exercising reasonable care should have known to be fraudulent, improper, illegal or not authorized by the Cardholder, (ii) which results from a transaction outside Merchant’s normal course of business as described on the Merchant Application, (iii) which results from processing or credit of any transaction not originated as a result of an act directly between Cardholder and Merchant, or (iv) which contains the account number of a bank card account issued to Merchant. Should Merchant do so, this Agreement may be immediately terminated by Processor without notice, all funds otherwise due Merchant may be placed on hold for such period as Processor may determine, but in any event, not less than 180 days. Merchant may be required to establish a reserve account in an amount determined by Processor. Merchant hereby releases, indemnifies and holds Processor harmless to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law for any loss or damage it may incur as a consequence of Merchant being placed by Processor on the Combined Terminated Merchant File or other applicable list where such events are reported. Processor may withhold any payment to Merchant from all transactions following the determination of improper, fraudulent, suspect or other questionable transaction, including but not limited to, transactions varying materially in character or volume from original ticket size, daily volume or monthly volume disclosed on the Merchant Application, until such questions regarding such transactions have been resolved to the satisfaction of Processor.

8. CHARGEBACK AND RETRIEVAL REQUESTS

Merchant agrees to pay the face amount of any Card Sales purchased by Processor hereunder, whether photocopy or original, and Processor shall have the right to charge Merchant’s Account therefore together with a fee to cover Processor’s costs and expenses incurred in processing any charge-backs ($30.00 each) or retrieval requests ($15.00 each), without notice and to reassign such Card Sales to Merchant under any circumstances where charge-backs are authorized by rules and regulations of MASTERCARD, VISA or DISCOVER Card or any state or federal consumer protection statute. The Merchant may not present for processing or entry into interchange any Card Sale representing a Transaction, which has been previously charged back to Merchant. Payment of the reserve estimate shall be immediate. In the event Merchant and/or Guarantor fails to establish the reserve account and/or funds available to Processor are inadequate to meet the estimate of Processor, after thirty (30) days Processor may charge interest at the highest lawful rate on any amount requested which results in a chargeback and for which the reserve was inadequate to cover such chargeback. In no event shall Processor charge interest in excess of the applicable maximum lawful rate. In the event that any amount of interest charged shall be deemed to exceed the maximum rate, such amount shall first be applied to amounts owed Processor, obligations of Merchant and/or Guarantor hereunder and the remaining amount placed in a reserve account to cover applicable anticipated costs or reserve obligations of Merchant and/or Guarantor, or refunded to Merchant. Merchant and/or Guarantor acknowledge that in the event of a bankruptcy proceeding, in order for Merchant and/or Guarantor to provide adequate protection under Bankruptcy Code 362 to Processor, Merchant and/or Guarantor must create and maintain the Reserve Account as required by Processor, and Processor will have the right to offset against the Reserve Account for any and all obligations which Merchant and/or Guarantor may owe Processor, without regard to whether the obligations relate to transactions initiated or created before or after the filing of the bankruptcy petition. This security interest may be exercised by Processor without notice or demand of any kind by making an immediate withdrawal or freezing the Secured Assets. Furthermore, tiered pricing transaction qualifications for "Qualified", "Mid-Qualified" and "Non-Qualified" are contingent upon Merchant's method of processing, category code, type of card accepted and timeframe of submission into the Interchange System. All rates and fees are contingent upon volume processed and average initially calculated. For all pricing methods, processor may pass through applicable Visa, MasterCard and/or Discover Card association dues and assessments at cost. 27. STORED VALUE CARDS

(a) Services. The Merchant's customers are given a magnetic stripe card by the Merchant in exchange for money received, merchandise returned or other considerations. The Card represents a dollar value that the Merchant's customer can either use or give to another individual. There is no security associated with the card itself. The actual record of the balance on the card is maintained on Processor's Stored Value Card database. The card, the design and use of which is proprietary to the Merchant, is designed to be swiped through a POS terminal during each transaction at Merchant's location. When the customer gives the magnetic stripe card to the cashier, the cashier will press the appropriate keys dependent upon the transaction type, swipe the card into the terminal, and key in the amount to be applied against the card's balance. This information will be immediately transmitted to Processor and the appropriate approval response will be routed to the Merchant. Associated with the program is a standard monthly reporting package detailing the Merchant's transactions and the outstanding balances on the individual cards. The Merchant will have access to help desk support through Processor for their stored value card transactions. Cardholders will have access to an interactive voice response system ("IVR"), via a toll free number, through which they may receive some basic account information. Merchant's card program will be configured in the manner specified by Merchant to Processor during enrollment, which will represent binding processor rules relating to Merchant's card program. Changes to such program requested by Merchant subsequent to setup will be made at Processor's sole discretion and in the time and manner which Processor shall determine. We will supply a detailed statement reflecting your Program activity. We will not be responsible for any error that you do not bring to our attention within ninety days from date of such statement.

(b) Cards & Packaging. You may be obligated to purchase Cards from us if you participate in this program. If you are obligated to purchase Cards from us or if you elect to do so anyway, we will arrange for the Card production and may, at our option, invoice you therefore, in lieu of electronically debiting on a per bundle basis, based on current rates. All production and delivery timeframes and costs provided by us are estimates only and we do not guarantee any specific date of delivery or price for Cards produced by third parties. You are responsible for all production costs and delivery charges for Cards. The form and content of all Cards will be subject to our approval.

(c) Compliance and Warranties. Merchant is solely responsible for complying with all applicable laws relating to your Cards and you agree to indemnify and hold us harmless from any loss, damage or claim relating to or arising out of any failure to comply with applicable laws in connection with your Card program. The stores value and loyalty services described herein are provided without warranties of any kind, either express or implied, including but not limited to warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. In the event of any loss, theft, disappearance of or damage to data that is transmitted electronically in connection with the Program, you agree to indemnify and hold harmless Processor with respect to such. You are solely responsible for monitoring the legal developments applicable to the operation of your Card program and ensuring that your Card program complies fully with such requirements as in effect from time to time. Merchant acknowledges that Processor cannot reasonably be expected to monitor and interpret the laws applicable to its diverse customer base, and has no responsibility to monitor or interpret laws applicable to Merchant's business.

Merchant shall be responsible for any fraudulent transactions involving your Cards, including, without limitation, the unauthorized activation of Cards, reloading of existing Cards (whether pursuant to a manual telephone order or otherwise) with additional value, or the unauthorized replication of Cards or Card data for fraudulent transactions. Processor provides a number of tools and options to help Merchant reduce Merchant's risk of exposure for fraudulent transactions. Processor urges Merchant to make use of any and all of such tools as we may offer in order to help reduce the risk of such transactions. In particular, Processor recommends Merchant utilize only those vendors which have been certified by Processor as having appropriate security measures in place to reduce the risk of counterfeit Cards and the loss of sensitive Card Information which might result in unauthorized transactions and, Merchant promptly and frequently reconcile the transaction reports Processor provides to Merchant against their own internal transaction records, and to report any unauthorized transactions to Merchant's account representative. Because manual Card transactions (i.e. those involving the activation or reloading of cards over the telephone in cases where Merchant terminals may be unavailable) pose a higher risk of potential fraud, Processor urges merchant to pay special attention to these transactions and reconcile them on an even more frequent basis. In the event Merchant does not reconcile their transaction reports and promptly report any suspicious activity to Processor, Processor may not be able to assist Merchant in canceling fraudulently activated or reloaded cards, or in otherwise identifying the source of any fraud.

Reports concerning these transfers will be made available to the Merchant through the Processor's electronic reporting product. The amount of the Proceeds to be debited or credited and the recipient of such debits or credits will be based on instructions received by Processor from the Merchant and transaction data collected by Processor pursuant to Merchant's Stored Value Card Program. (g) Fees. Merchant hereby agrees to pay Processor fees for these Stored Value Card Program's services in an amount set forth in Merchant Processing Agreement or Addendum.

This is an unconditional guaranty of payment, and not a guaranty of collection, and Processor may enforce these obligations hereunder without first suing, or enforcing Processor's rights or remedies against a Redeeming Franchisee or Selling Franchisee or any other obligor.
